¹⁰⁰ Percentage of K-12 tests in the facility that are positive during the most recent 14 days is calculated by dividing the number of positive tests over the most recent 14 days by the total number of tests conducted over the same period (14 days) and multiplying by 100. Testing sites are categorized by the district and school administration (elementary, secondary, combined, and alternative sites). The secondary locations of (high) schools, technical, and alternative are categorized as secondary. Data for testing sites is reported by the district and school administration (K-12). The data is reported as a percentage of positive tests (tests) of the total testing (tests) and is not an absolute count. Data about the testing results is to be reported for each of a number of locations of the given testing sites.
